AUTO MOUNTS SIDEWALK, HITS PORCH AND TREE

Edward K. Hartman, 22, of Gettysburg R. 1, suffered a laceration on his chin, a cut on his right thumb and possible chest injuries at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon when his automobile failed to make the curve from Buford avenue into Chambersburg street and went about 150 feet along the sidewalk on the south side of Chambersburg street before hitting a tree and a porch.

Patrolman Kenneth Tawney, who investigated the accident, said today that charges of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants and reckless driving would be filed against Hartman.

According to borough police and witnesses who saw the car driving east on Buford avenue seconds before the accident, Hartman was driving at a rate of speed estimated at between 60 and 70 miles an hour. Borough police said skid marks on the roadway started a few feet east of the traffic signal at the Meade school and continued until the car jumped over the curb onto the brick sidewalk.

Car Catches Fire
Hartman then straightened out, drove straight up the sidewalk, missing a telephone pole with the left side of his car and scraping the porch at the home of H. F. Lawler, 232 Chambersburg street. A rain spout was knocked off and the porch railing damaged.

The car continued until it struck a large tree and the porch in front of the home of Francis Frew, 218 Chambersburg street. The porch was partially demolished.

Hartman was removed from the car and taken to the Warner hospital. After the crash, the automobile caught fire. Edward A. Hughes, who lives a short distance west of the scene of the crash, at 240 Chambersburg street, ran to Shaffer's automobile supply store and obtained a fire extinguisher which was used to put out the fire.

Car Demolished
Hartman, a former service man, and a son of County Agent and Mrs. M. T. Hartman, was a student at York City college. Borough police said he was returning to Gettysburg from a tavern west of town.

Police estimated the damage to the car, a 1936 Chevrolet at $500. It was almost completely demolished. Damage to the two porches was estimated at $200.

Only a few minutes before the car raced onto the sidewalk, the pavement had been filled with scores of Meade school children en route to their homes after school.

XMAS PROGRAM IS PRESENTED IN BIGLERVILLE

Biglerville held its first community Christmas celebration and turning on of the lights Monday night. Promptly at 8 o'clock the switch was thrown which lighted the strings of colored lights in the square, and the community program got under way.

The Biglerville high school band opened the program by playing "Silent Night," followed by a prayer by the Rev. H. W. Sternat, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church.

A public address system was used, and Ray Shetter was master of ceremonies and narrator for "The Christmas Story," based on St. Mark and St. Matthew.

Christmas carols were played by the band, and selections sung by a male quartet composed of Charles L. Yost, Earl Crum, Kenneth Alwine and Donald Miller.

The final number, "O Come, All Ye Faithful," was sung by the entire assembly, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Sternat. More than 1,000 persons were gathered in the square for the program. A large Christmas tree in front of the Biglerville bank was strung with colored lights, in addition to the street decorations.

PRESBYTERIANS ISSUE CALL TO REV. C. R. BROWN

The Rev. Clyde R. Brown, Blair Mills, Pa., was extended a call to the pastorate of the Gettysburg Presbyterian church at a special congregational meeting Monday evening in the Church school building.

The action was taken after the Rev. Mr. Brown had been recommended to the congregation by a special committee on a new pastor, elected last summer following the resignation of the Rev. Robert M. Hunt. The Rev. Mr. Hunt accepted a position as minister of Christian Education in the East Liberty Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, after nearly five years as pastor of the local church.

Expected In January

Informed by telephone Monday night of the local church's action, the Rev. Mr. Brown requested a conference with local church officials and today arrangements were being made for a meeting of members of the session, trustees and board of deacons on Friday evening. S. G. Bigham, who submitted the special committee's report to the congregation, stated Monday evening he expects the Rev. Mr. Brown will take up his duties here January 2 although his formal installation cannot be held until later that month.

The congregation fixed their new pastor's salary at $3,000 per year with free use of the manse. An annual vacation of one month also was included in terms of the call which M. B. Frazee, Dr. Walter H. Danforth and James S. Cairns, will take to the January meeting of Carlisle Presbytery.

Preached Here Twice

The Rev. Mr. Brown, who preached here two Sundays last month, is a graduate of Maryville college in Tennessee and Western Theological seminary in Pittsburgh. He recently completed graduate work through a scholastic honors fellowship at Hartford Theological seminary, Hartford, Conn. For two years he was an assistant pastor at the Dormont Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, and was pastor of the Fairview Presbyterian church there for a year and a half before entering post-graduate work.

He is the youngest of four sons of the Rev. William A. Brown, Blair Mills, who have entered the ministry.

He is 26 years of age and married.

COUNCIL ASKS NEW BIDS FOR TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Borough council, at its regular December meeting at the engine house Monday night, voted to re-advertise for bids for traffic signals at eight intersections in the borough, after approving a new set of specifications.

Bids were advertised for new traffic lights and one bid received and opened at the council meeting on November 1. The Swam Electric company, of Hanover, submitted a bid of $17,070 for lights at seven intersections and a bid of $1,825 for lights at Carlisle street and Lincoln avenue if this intersection is given state approval for a light.

The original specifications called for excavating and installing underground cable for all the traffic signals. The Swam bid was rejected on November 1 because council felt that the lights could be installed at a much lower price by using overhead wiring in all but Center square.

New Specifications

The new specifications call for using iron poles instead of ornamental pedestals, except in the square, where a post and pedestal is called for. The intersections named in the specifications include: Baltimore and Steinwehr avenue; York and Stratton streets; Chambersburg and Washington streets; Baltimore and High streets; Buford and Springs avenues; Center Square, and Carlisle and Lincoln avenue.

The specifications were approved by the safety committee and recommended for adoption. Council asked for separate prices for each intersection, the contract to be awarded however, on the total price. It will reserve the right to install as many or as few lights with the first installation as it may later decide.

Council directed the placing of new street lights at Queen street and Highland avenue and on Carlisle street between Lincoln and Broadway.

No Meter Reports

Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner, who was directed at a recent council meeting to obtain lists of meters out of order daily from the borough police, told council that since Patrolman Ralph Fissel had been transferred to night duty he has not received any reports.

He also complained that the new street sweeper had been unable to sweep effectively downtown because of cars parked all night. Borough Solicitor Eugene V. Bulleit said the borough has no ordinance empowering the police to tow cars away. Winebrenner said that before Patrolman Fissel went on night duty the streets were never "clean" of cars, but that they had been since (Please Turn To Page 2)

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Another day of questioning before a spy-hunting federal grand jury today confronted Whittaker Chambers, confessed courier for a pre-war Communist espionage ring.

Chambers testified before the grand jury at length yesterday and was closeted until early this morning with members of the House Un-American Activities committee, who hastened here to talk with him.

Chambers' appearance before the grand jury coincided with the committee's disclosure that the ex-Communist previously had accused Alger Hiss, former state department official, of slipping him "restricted" documents for delivery to a Russian agent.

SICKLES FINDS MORE HAZARDS AT 2 BUILDINGS

A report of recent inspections of two schools, the St. Francis Xavier parochial school, and the Lincoln school, was contained in the monthly report of Eugene Sickles, fire marshal, presented to borough council Monday night by Burgess C. A. Heiges, and referred to Wilbur J. Stallsmith, chairman of the safety committee.

The parochial school inspection was previously reported.

At the Lincoln school, Sickles reported he found everything "spic and span, exits open and clear, the janitor cooperative, the ceiling over the furnace insulated, stairs wide and landings clear, doors open legally, no rubbish or trash in exposed locations."

Other Hazards

An inspection was also made of the rear alley at Rea and Derick's drug store in Center square, on complaint of tenants in the upper apartments in the building. Sickles said tenants complained of discarded boxes and rubbish obstructing a rear fire escape. He said he ordered the obstructions removed, and the order was carried out and cooperation in the future promised.

The Delecto Dairy building, Center square, owned by M. K. Eckert, was also inspected. Sickles said he found "obsolete wiring, combustible trash and boxes in the basement of the Delecto, illegal cardboard partitions in the basement and on the wall at a door between the Delecto and the Shoe Box," and recommended replacement of wiring and removal of combustible materials.

An inspection was made of all fire hydrants in the borough. He said the hydrant outlet cap chains were loosened. He said that firemen had found difficulty in removing the caps because painting had made the chains fast.

The American Legion building was also inspected, but no hazards found, according to Sickles.

COMMITTEES ON LIONS' SHOW ARE APPOINTED

With the charity fund of the Gettysburg Lions club in need of being replenished after having been dipped into for $1,000 for the Gettysburg Community Chest and many other smaller sums for other local causes, the club Monday evening launched plans for its 1949 minstrel show.

The show, to be given next spring on a date not yet selected, will be handled by the club's program and special activities committees headed by Kenneth P. Hull and Kenneth Denzler, respectively. Lions voted earlier this year to make the minstrel an annual event after the success of the 1948 show.

Student Entertains

President D. E. Hess presided at the meeting which was held at the Shetter House with about 80 Lions and guests in attendance.

Jack Candioto, a Gettysburg college student, entertained the clubmen with feats of memory and "mental effects." He distributed 116 pages of a current picture magazine among the club members, had them mention the number of various pages and he described the pages' contents from memory. Then he had Lions describe the pages they held and he named the pages' numbers. Later he memorized a list of 25 words placed on a blackboard by the audience and identified them by numbers called from the audience.

A letter was read from the Hoffman orphanage thanking the Lions for providing transportation for orphanage boys and girls on a recent trip to the movies here.

Local Negro Youth Freed As Suspect In Burglaries Here; Injures Cop In Tussle

A 17-year-old Gettysburg negro was picked up, questioned and released by borough police early this morning following reports of three burglaries here.

Because he is a juvenile, his name was not divulged. Police, however, said he had been implicated in another recent case.

The youth was "spotted" by police at 2:30 o'clock this morning on West Lincoln avenue. Following the report of the burglaries, Patrolman Charles W. Culp, Jr., called Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster, who is on vacation. With Joseph McKendrick accompanying them in the police car, they began a search for the burglar.

When Harpster got out of the police car and stopped the youth to question him, the boy became abusive, and threatened to kill Harpster, according to a police statement.

Tussles With Officers

In attempting to place the youth in the police car, a tussle ensued, in which Culp, McKendrick and a youth identified by police only as "Hess" were needed to subdue him. In the tussle Officer Culp was kicked in the nose, the police report said. After questioning at police headquarters, the suspect was released, because of the fact he is a juvenile.

"Where's My Shotgun?"

The first report reached police headquarters at 1 a. m. when C. C. Reaver, 142-B West High street, reported a prowler in his home. He said the prowler entered and left by a front window, upsetting a pedestal (Please Turn To Page 3)

ROTARY GIVEN FACTS ABOUT XMAS TREES

A talk on Christmas trees, by Lycurgus Long, sales representative for the C. H. Musselman company, Biglerville, featured the regular dinner meeting of the Rotary club Monday evening at the YWCA.

Mr. Long has a Christmas tree plantation on Keckler's hill, on the Biglerville road, on which he began planting trees 20 years ago. He told of planting the trees to stop soil erosion and for sale later.

To prevent loss from disease so far as possible, several varieties were planted, he said, among them Scotch pine, blue spruce, white pine, and red pine.

Mortality runs high among the trees, he said. Out of 2,500 blue spruce, he said he had ten left. Insects, plant diseases and rabbits destroy many trees, rabbits eating the roots.

"It takes 19 to 20 years for trees to mature to Christmas tree size," he said. "Mortality rate among Scotch pine is only 10 percent, compared with 50 per cent for white pine," he added. "Norway spruce is a good tree, but it does not hold the needles well in heated homes and red pine boughs bend too easily."

Mr. Long said that out of 40,000 trees planted on his plantation, only approximately 15,000 reach good shape for Christmas trees. The trees were planted on contour lines. Between 5,000 and 10,000 trees are set out yearly as re-plants, he said. Driveways are maintained as fire protection.

President Mares Sherman presided at the meeting, at which 52 were present.

COUNCIL ASKS

Fissel took over night duty. The borough engineer asked that Fissel be changed back to day duty, to look after meters and enforce the parking ordinance. Burgess C. A. Heiges recently recommended that a new man be employed with specific duties to look after the meters and meter violations.

Turner Quits Post

In answer to Winebrenner's requests that Fissel be given this job, the burgess said: "That will probably be taken care of between this and the next meeting."

Winebrenner reported that Harry Turner, highway department foreman, had quit his job. Council named Edgar Shellaman, a highway department employee for the past year and a half, as foreman in Turner's place, at a salary of $170 a month.

The highway committee was given authority to have the borough roller repaired. Winebrenner reported that the clutch and carburetor were worn out, and that one cylinder pumped oil badly. He said recently it had been impossible to start the motor. He estimated the cost of repairs at $200.

Council transferred $4,000 from the general fund of the borough to the safety fund and another $4,000 from the general fund to the finance committee fund. Both accounts were nearly exhausted, it was reported. The transfer raises the amount allowed in the safety committee budget from $17,000 to $21,000 and the finance from $5,000 to $9,000.

Seek Street Grade
It was voted to turn $250, out of the $500 promised to the Blue and Gray band, over to the band.

At the request of the borough engineer, council directed the borough secretary to request a grade from the state for Carlisle street extended.

No action was taken on a letter from the Pennsylvania Association of Boroughs asking for an expression of opinion on Act 481, giving additional taxing powers to boroughs.

A letter was read from the Mathieson Alkali company, raising the price of chlorine for the sewage treatment plant from 10¢ to 10½ cents a pound.

The burgess' report showed 15 building permits, $145; one sewer permit, 75 cents; theater tax, $550.86; 77 meter fines, 30 no parking fines and one fine for obstructing traffic, for total receipts of $806.61.

Police Chief Reports

Borough Police Chief Robert C. Harpster reported 11 arrests during November, five for motor violations, two for disorderly conduct, two for larceny, and one each for vagrancy and receiving stolen goods. There were seven automobile accidents, one involving a pedestrian. Property damage was estimated at $495. One stolen car and two bicycles were recovered. The chief thanked borough officials for their cooperation with the recent FBI-police chiefs school and said arrangements were being made for an advanced school in the fall of 1949.

The treasurer's report showed receipts of $6,128.57 and disbursements of $6,174.35. The balance at the end of the month was $44,754.49. The following meter receipts were reported: Center square, $395.81; Baltimore street, $476.83; Chambersburg street, $476.92; York street, $395.13; Carlisle street, $193.80, a total for the month of $1,938.49.

scripture lesson was read by Ruth Myers and the prayer was given by Jean Yealy. Miss Betty Yealy was the leader who divided the topic into two parts, the first part of which was "Jesus, the Good Shepherd." She spoke briefly on this phase of the topic and the group answered questions on "Why God Is Our Shepherd." Miss Helen Myers also gave a reading on this portion of the topic. Miss Yealy discussed the second phase of the topic which was "Jesus, the Wise Teacher." Jean Yealy then gave a reading, "God's Wisdom."

Business was in charge of the president, Miss Eloise Yealy. It was decided to hold their Christmas party on December 15 in the social hall of the church. FIND THREE BODIES

Columbus, O., Dec. 7 (AP)— A Dayton, O., businessman and two women employees were found dead in the wreckage of their plane near here yesterday. They had been missing since Saturday on a flight from Jamestown, N. Y., to Dayton. The victims were W. J. Blanchard, 48, general manager of General Motors' Aero products division; Miss Vivian Johnson, 29, and Miss Betty Charles, 28, all of Dayton.

WOMAN IS DEAN

State College, Pa., Dec. 7 (AP)— Dr. Grace M. Henderson, director of home economics at the Pennsylvania State college since 1946 has been named dean of the newly created school of home economics, it was announced today. James Millholland, acting president, said Dr. Henderson will assume her new duties on January 1.

BULLETS FACE VETERAN TEAM AT PRINCETON

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 7 (AP)—Princeton Basketball Coach Cappy Cappon has been hinting that his squad, studded with veteran talent and promising sophomores, will be strong contenders for the Ivy League title this year.

The Tiger cagers will pry the lid off their 49th consecutive season Wednesday night against Gettysburg.

Four members of the starting quintet that tied for third in the league last year are back. Two other varsity lettermen and eight players from Princeton's undefeated freshman squad of last winter also are on hand.

"Not many teams will be bigger than we are," Cappon declared. Last season he had reason to complain about "finding teams our size."

But Cappon doesn't consider the team in good shape yet. Six members of the football team, expected to play key roles on the court, have had little more than a week of practice.

Sella Injured
George Sella, All-Eastern back, a regular starter on last year's quintet, was not able to practice last week because of a leg injury received in football. Cappon himself was ill several days.

The starting five probably will be built around Bernie Adams, six-foot four-inch center from Lancaster, Pa., who was high scorer last year.

Captain Joe Holman, Merchantville, and Bill Kelly, Wrightstown, who is currently playing the best ball of his Princeton career, will give the squad additional scoring punch.

Two Sophomores
Rounding out the top five will be Sophomores Mike Kearns, Trenton, and Bill Clarke, a varsity substitute last season.

This combination averages about the same in height as last season's team, which posted a record of 12 victories and 11 losses, but there is plenty of height on the second, or "football," quintet.

Sophomores Cliff Kurrus and Ed Reed, both varsity football ends, are in the neighborhood of six feet four inches. Also bolstering the second team are Will Prior, sophomore full-back, and letterman Walt Armstrong.

Sport Shorts

Minneapolis, Dec. 7 (AP)—Baseball's trade winds, just gentle zephyrs up to now, blew hotter today as the diamond's great and near-great prepared for the opening gavel of the annual minor league meeting. Just what was in the works was a big, dark secret among the owners and managers, but a few words here and there indicated things were moving along.

For instance, the Chicago White Sox sold a first baseman yesterday. And Frank Lane, the new general manager, said he has offered $100,000 in cash and three players for third baseman Bob Dillinger of the St. Louis Browns.

Cleveland, Dec. 7 (AP)—Heavyweights Jimmy Eaves and Joe Maxim trade punches in a 10-rounder at the arena tonight with the winner becoming a strong candidate for a bout with champion Joe Louis next June.

It's almost a certainty that the victor will fight Jersey Joe Walcott here next month in one series of eliminations to find a suitable opponent for Louis.

Louis: "I have knocked out other opponents with 12 ounce gloves and nothing will stop me from putting away Conn if I get the chance."

ST. JOHN'S QUINT LOOKING GOOD

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—The college basketball season is too young to produce any definite trends but St. John's of Brooklyn is beginning to show its biceps in the east. The Red-men have won their first four starts and have given impressive performances in two appearances in Madison Square Garden.

Last week they defeated Tennessee, a southeastern conference power, 67-45. Then last night, with 15,827 looking on, they outlasted Denver university in an overtime game, 55-53.

Don Noonan, a sub forward, sank a long, arching shot from halfway to the midstripe to win the game for St. John's after the contest had been thrown into an extra five-minute period. The regular time ended in a 48-48 draw.

The other half of the Garden twin bill saw Colgate hand New York university's young, green quintet a 64-63 setback on Curt Norris' driving layup shot in the last second of play.

In the east Dartmouth won over Vermont, 51-41, and St. Francis of Brooklyn whipped John Marshall, 69-53. Visiting Brigham Young handed Muhlenberg its first setback, 60-56.

The National AAU champions and Olympic representatives for Phillips Oilers, stepped into college competition and lashed West Texas State, 56-42.

Six Are Successful In Shooting Deer

A group of 15 men returned Saturday evening after a week of deer hunting upstate.

The following shot deer: Charles Gulden, Aspers, eight-point; Grover Thompson, Gettysburg, 11-point; Carl Kane, Arendtsville, four-point; Dorsey Rebert, Gettysburg, four-point; George Baugher, Aspers, six-point; Harry Wood, Lemoyne, five-point.

Thompson's deer has one of the largest racks secured by a local hunter this season. It has a spread of 18½ inches. The deer shot by Mr. Gulden has a rack of 18 inches.

The current rate of producing penicillin in the United States is more than 125,000 times larger than it was during the first six months of 1943.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—National Football league magnates, who claim they discount attendance figures and count only the cash that comes in at the gate, say their receipts are off only five to seven per cent this season. In contrast, amusement enterprises report drops of 25 per cent up. . . . While the Oklahoma Aggies football team is playing William and Mary in the Delta Bowl New Year's Day, the Aggie track team will compete in the Sugar Bowl meet; and the Aggie basketball team will return from an eastern tour for the Oklahoma City tournament. Doesn't anybody stay at home? . . . All five regulars on the Cornell basketball team, and a couple of subs, belong to one fraternity, Psi Upsilon.

SINGULAR POSSESSIVES
Frank Howard, Clemson coach, was addressing a student pep rally when he came up with this gem: "We will try to win this game. The players will do their best. We had some bad games last year so 'I' had a bad season. This year we're winning so 'you' are winning. It looks like when the team wins, it's yours and when we lose it's mine."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Harry Perkowski, young southpaw pitcher who'll be in the Cincinnati Reds camp next spring, not only had a 22-9 record for Tulsa last season, but set a Texas league record as a pinch-hitter. Harry made 15 hits in 30 pinch efforts for a .500 average. . . . Ken Terry, candidate for center on the Mississippi basketball team, is Memphis Bill's son and his rival at the same position, Don Blanchard, is a cousin to Army's Doc. . . . Speaking of kinfolks, Bill Bos plays center for Kalamazoo college and in the same league brother Bob is on the "B" squad at Hope college and brother Dale plays for Alma college. . . . Hefty Harry Boykoff, former St. John's (Brooklyn) cager who has shed 55 pounds since joining Waterloo, Iowa, of the National pro league, is taking judo lessons from Owner Pinky George. That we'd like to see.

FINALS THURSDAY

The finals in the intra-mural wrestling program and table tennis tournament at Gettysburg college will be held in the college gymnasium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Toasted potato wafers made from boiled potatoes and skimmilk are one of the latest food novelties.

Philadelphia, Dec. 7 (AP)—Rookies took over the national football league's statistical spotlight today with chucking Charley Conerly—the New York Giants passing ace—literally beaming.

Conerly, who last year at Mississippi university smashed all collegiate passing records, moved into second place in the NFL passing race on the strength of the greatest individual aerial performance in league history.

The Giants' freshman completed 36 passes out of 53 attempts to break Davey O'Brien's 1940 record of 33 completions in 60 tries. Only one of his 53 passes was intercepted by Pittsburgh Steelers defenders, an achievement ranking with the top performance in this category.

On the over-all season, Conerly has attempted 259 passes, completed 139 for 1,950 yards and 20 touchdowns. Thirteen of his tosses have been intercepted to give him—under the NFL's inverse system of rating—a completion average of 53.7. Tommy Thompson of the Philadelphia Eagles has thrown 225, completed 125 for 1,707 yards and 21 touchdowns. Only 11 have been intercepted.

WOODCOCK IS SAVOLD VICTOR

London, Dec. 7 (AP)—Bruce Woodcock won the fight but lost the big prize—any hope for a world title match with heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

Lee Savold lost the bout but showed himself a better man and worthier foe for Louis than the winner.

That sums up the slant of expert ringiders on the scheduled 10-round go here last night that had been plugged as an elimination for a world championship contest.

Woodcock, the British heavyweight champion, won the fight in the fourth round when Savold was disqualified for hitting below the belt. Savold, veteran ex-Minnesotan now billed from Paterson, N. J., was going strong at the time.

The crowd of 11,000 in Harringay arena boomed the decision while Woodcock writhed and mugged on the canvas in a show of pain.

She heard a noise and walked to the top of the stairs. Looking down, she saw a masked man at the foot of the stairs. The latter was described as wearing a white mask over his face. He wore a tan coat or jacket, she said. She said she called her husband, who asked: "Where's my shotgun?" At that, the intruder escaped through the kitchen. Nothing was taken.

At 1:50 two college co-eds living in Stevens Hall discovered a prowler, and one of the girls chased him from the third floor to the second floor. He escaped through a bathroom window on the first floor, according to reports.

PEARL HARBOR ANNIVERSARY BEING MARKED

Pearl Harbor, Dec. 7 (AP)—Hawaii was more interested in the rescue of 33 air force men from the mid-Pacific than it was in today's seventh anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

But from elsewhere came remembrances, and strange coincidences.

On Tokyo Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida called on parliament to support his government "for the rehabilitation and recovery of the Japanese empire." It threw members of parliament into a turmoil. And a socialist rebuked him for use of the once familiar word "empire." It was the empire Japan was trying to expand when it bombed Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

In Washington Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of China's president issued a statement in remembrance of "this sacred day" and the dead who "gave their lives for human liberty." She said: "May we, the living, do everything we can to forestall another world war and to prevent further enslavement of mankind."

In San Diego, Calif., the newly formed "Veterans of Pearl Harbor" will meet. Adm. Frederick C. Sherman, retired, will be the main speaker. (Formal anniversary services in San Diego were scheduled aboard the seaplane tender Curtis, a veteran of the 1941 attack.)

But in Pearl Harbor itself, seven years have dimmed the memory and the scars of the attack.

JUDGE'S SON IS SEEKING PAROLE

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—Application for parole has been made by Donald M. Johnson, of Middleburg, Pa., serving a two-year sentence for conspiracy to defraud the U. S. government.

The Justice Department disclosed yesterday that Johnson—a son of former federal district judge Albert W. Johnson—filed a parole application September 11, 1943. No action has been taken on the petition, a department spokesman said, and no indication has been given as to when such action would be forthcoming.

Johnson was sentenced March 24, 1947, but was not committed to the federal correctional institution at Danbury, Conn., until March 11, 1948. He became eligible for parole on October 19, 1948. Former Judge Johnson and two other sons—tried at the same time—were acquitted.

Another defendant in the case, Jacob Greenes, of Scranton, Pa., applied for parole on July 8, 1948, but no action has been taken on his petition. He was committed on January 19, to serve two years in the Lewisburg, Pa., penitentiary and became eligible for parole on September 16, 1948.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanders received the Sacrament of Baptism Sunday at St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, Gettysburg. The child received the name of Gerard Jude and the sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Topper. The Rev. Father Forberg, assistant pastor, officiated.

SUPREME COURT TIE GIVES JAPS LEASE ON LIFE

By DONALD SANDERS

Washington, Dec. 7 (AP)—A dramatically broken Supreme Court tie gave seven former Japanese war-lords a new lease on life today—the seventh anniversary of the day of the infamy they helped plot.

Splitting five to four, the Tribunal agreed yesterday to consider whether it can pass on the findings of the International Court in Tokyo which doomed the men to hang as war criminals.

Justice Robert H. Jackson, who took leave from the bench in 1945 to prosecute Nazi Germany's war criminals, cast the deciding vote because he said, "the issues are truly great ones."

Was Tried Previously
"Their decision will establish or deny," he declared, "that this court has power to review exercise of military power abroad and the President's conduct of external affairs of our government."

In earlier appeals to the Tribunal from war crimes sentences meted out by American military courts in Germany Jackson held aloof because of his role at Nuernberg as chief Allied prosecutor. In those cases the Supreme Court divided 4 to 4 and—because a tie vote denies an appeal—the sentences never were reviewed by the Tribunal.

In no event will the court pass on the guilt or innocence of the Japanese. But it will hear arguments December 16 on (1) whether it has any power to intercede and, if so (2)

In a soul-searching, six-page memorandum explaining his action, Jackson said he decided to break the tie at a court conference last Saturday. His hope, he said, is that "fuller argument and hearing will convert one or more of the Justices on one side or the other from the views that have equally divided them in the German cases."

SANTA and the SNOWMAN

BY LUCRECE HUDGINS

Chapter 2

DANNY GETS A FRIEND

While Danny sat beside his wonderful snow man the little fairy kissed him on the cheek.

"Watch now, Danny," she said, "And you will see your snow man come to life."

Then she unwrapped her enormous brown paper package and took out a hat. It was a red peaked hat with the softest white fur all around the edges and a big plop of white fur at the very top of the peak.

Smiling, the fairy flew to the snow man's shoulder and carefully fitted the red hat over the snow man's head.

"This is a lovely snow man!" she said admiringly. "And the hat will make him even lovelier."

She took a pin from under her wing where she had a pin cushion and fastened the hat tight so it wouldn't budge at all—not unless you tugged at it very, very hard.

Then the fairy said, "This is a magic hat. So long as the snow man wears it he will be real." She leaned over close to the snow man's ear and said very loud so that he would be sure to understand, "If you ever take off this hat you will be just a snow man and the hat will never make you real again."

With that the fairy spread her wings and vanished.

The next thing you know a group of the boys came trudging home from the sledding hill and when they saw Danny sitting by the snow man they shouted:

"Knock down the snow man!" and they began hurling snow balls.

Danny sprang in front of the snow man and all the snow balls hit him right in the face. Then an astonishing thing happened:

A great round snow ball flew through the air—not at Danny but at the boys—landing right on top of the leader.

The boys dropped their hands and stared and then they turned and ran away as fast as their frightened legs would carry them.

Danny stared, too, and his mouth fell open and finally he said, "Did you throw that?"

The Snow Man brushed some snow off his long white suit and said, "I did and it was a pretty good shot, too, wasn't it?"

Oh, he had the most wonderful voice! Soft and deep and warm. And friendly. That was the important thing.

"Oh, my!" gasped Danny. "Then you are my friend, aren't you?"

"Why certainly," said the Snow Man. "That's what I'm here for I expect. But there is one thing that bothers me and that fairy didn't explain it. What's to become of me when the sun comes out?"

"You mean—?"

"I mean I'll melt. Bound to." He thought for a while. "You don't have an ice box, do you?"

Danny shook his head sadly.

"Just as well," grunted the Snow

"THAT'S THE PLACE FOR US! COME ON—WHAT ARE WE WAITING FOR?"

Man. "I'd hate to have to live in it."

"We—we could go north."

"Snow melts in the north, too, doesn't it? Does when summer comes."

"Why, then," cried Danny suddenly. "How about way, way north? At the North Pole?"

"Hum-m," said the Snow Man. "You mean at Santa Land? Why, boy, that's the place for us! Come on—what are we waiting for?"

And that old Snow Man started walking away holding Danny's hand tight in his.

"Do you suppose," ventured Danny, his heart bursting with excitement, "Do you suppose Santa Claus might be able to do something about my crooked leg?"

"Shouldn't be surprised," said the Snow Man, kicking at the snow with his own snow feet. "I shouldn't be at all surprised."

REPORT ON DEER KILLS

Harrisburg, Dec. 7 (AP)—Pennsylvania nimrods brought home 19,895 antlered trophies during the first week of the 1948 deer season, says the state Game Commission. In addition, 1,220 deer were killed illegally during the same period, the commission said. Five Pennsylvania hunters lost their lives from gunshot wounds during the season's opening week. Another 22 non-fatal accidents were reported to the commission.

Chapter 29

Reluctantly Mrs. Monahan let Pat close the window against the snowy darkness. It was the first fall snow, the kind that doesn't last and is merely a harbinger of things to come. But it did seem to have brought the late November darkness even earlier than usual. Coming home through it, Pat had seen her sitting by the open window and rushed in to shut it over her protests.

"Are you crazy altogether? Do you want to catch your death of cold?"

"I was watchin' the snow come down. Pat, did you ever know that snowflakes are like silver arrows stabbing at you out of the darkness? Now I bet you didn't."

"They're arrows that will kill you all right."

She heaved a deep sigh that shook her mountainous figure. "Pat, you have no poetry in you at all. And there's no fear of snow killing the likes of me. Its starvation will do that. These doctors and their diets. A fine one I am at my time of life to start thinking about my figure."

"Now don't start complaining about that. You've lost weight and—"

"Lost weight indeed? I've gained it. I never used to think of it at all except when I was fool enough to try to walk around, but now I think about it all the time. My stomach grows at me and wants to know if my throat is cut."

"You said that yesterday, and the day before," he added impressively.

She laughed. "I intend going on saying it till I wear you all down. I told Father Toughy so today. Lottie ain't here to pester me any more, so I say—"

"Grandma! Grandma!"

There was no mistaking Tuffy's shrill cry outside the window. The next moment he burst into the room and flung himself into her arms, shouting wildly.

"We're home! Mom is comin' down the block. I can stay with you till Monday when I gotta go back to school, Pat, I want a ride."

Pat caught him up and held him high over his head, laughing up at him and quite as excited as he was. The fat woman flung eager questions that were lost in hilarious laughter. Lottie appeared in the doorway and poised.

"What noise! Terence, behave yourself. Pat, put him down at once. He is crazy enough. He ran all the way down the street ahead of me."

Mrs. Monahan chortled. "Stop complaining and come give me a kiss. Then you can tell me all about California."

Tuffy caught the word and roared information. "Rosalie ain't out there any more. She was no good so they fired her. Tell 'em Ma."

"I told you I'd whip you if you said that. I—"

Mrs. Monahan was sitting very still. Pat put the boy down gently on a chair and faced the girl.

"What is it you know about Rosalie?"

Lottie tossed her fur coat onto a chair carelessly. "Can't you even give me a chance to catch my breath after I've been away for three months?"

"Where is Rosalie? What happened to her?"

"And where is Joe?" cried the boy. "We came by the firehouse but he wasn't there. The captain showed me Joe's medal and—"

"It wasn't the captain. It—"

Pat gave her a little shake. "Lottie, I'm asking you a question. Where is Rosalie?"

She pulled away from him angrily. "Rosalie, Rosalie. That's all I hear. You might ask me how I am when you haven't seen me in months."

Mrs. Monahan was quick. "We don't need to ask about you. It's plain you haven't changed even a little bit."

"What do you mean by that?"

"You're still as exasperatin' as ever. Can't you answer a simple

Two Amazing New Drugs Available

New York, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two amazing new drugs—effective against such diseases as typhoid and Rocky Mountain spotted fever—have been added to medicine's growing arsenal of germ killers.

The drugs, chloromycetin and aureomycin, have been administered to several hundred patients suffering from various diseases, including virus pneumonia, undulant fever, and Q fever.

The sometimes "astounding" results were described today by Dr.

question? Where is Rosalie? Did you see her?"

"Yes, I did," Lottie snapped the words. She tried to act like the queen of Hollywood. You'd think she owned the place."

Pat grinned. "Maybe she does by now. She has a way with her, you know."

Lottie laughed shrilly. "She has nothing. She was tried in a cheap picture and they cut her out. She was no good. Nobody would have her. You wanted to know so bad and now you do. That's why she never wrote you a line. Rex Hall dumped her when he saw the first rushes. He's no fool. He escaped her clutches all right. It was in the paper out there. He's engaged to someone else. He doesn't know where she is nor want to know."

CATTLE—Fresh receipts estimated at 1,400 fell 29 per cent short of the run, counted in a week ago today and figured 44 per cent smaller than the receipts of the same day a year ago. However, the fresh receipts were supplemented by about 700 held from last week so that the salable supply was not as short as indicated.

Steers formed about half the run as the equivalent of 35 loads was on offer, including several loads held from last week. Very few high-grade and choice offerings were on hand as most of the arrivals consisted of grain-fed-on-the-grass and short-fed offerings. Heifers were in light supply. Cows made up the major share of the balance of the run.

Trading very slow in all slaughter 1,000-lb. and over, but supply of 400-lb. and under was 1875-1925; 400-450 pounds, $17.75-18.25; heavierweights and odd stags, $17 down. But of all weight ranges in upper half quotations. Garbage-fed hogs generally discounted $1.50 or more from the price of best comparable weights of grain-fed offerings.
